Council Reverses Plan Commission

The Upland City Council voted 3-2 Tuesday night to reverse an earlier Planning Commission decision and allow a conditional use permit which would clear the way for construction of a Lutheran Church at the corner of Euclid and 21st St.

The motion to reverse the Planning Commission decision was made by Mayor Abner Haldeman after an earlier motion by Jarvis Leman to uphold the Commission decision was defeated by a 3-2 margin.

Leman and Bob Marriott voted to uphold the decision and against the mayor's motion to reverse.

The vote followed a lengthy public hearing at which strong protests against granting the permit were registered by property owners in the area concerned.

Lutheran Pastor Howard Rusdahl and several Upland Lutherans who have been attending church in Ontario spoke in favor of the request during the public hearing.

Pastor Clarence A. Larson, a member of the Board of Lutheran Home Missions, and Father J. A. Erickson Jr. of St. Marks Episcopal Church, also argued for the reversal.

The Planning Commission had denied the request for the conditional use permit on the grounds that the site selected was too remote from the population to be served and because of objections registered by property owners in the area.

Holds Error

Mayor Haldeman, in making his motion, concluded that the Commission was in error in denying the permit and pointed to national surveys, facts and figures in similar instances to bolster his decision.

All that now remains in the path of the start of construction on the church is a resolution which must be adopted in which conditions under which the property may be used will be spelled out.

In other action Tuesday night the Council voted to accept a bid of $4,778.68 from Grimm Chevrolet for four new sedans to be used by the police department. Skycrest Ford submitted a bid of $5,992.01. Both bids allowed for trade-ins.

The Council also adopted a resolution supporting proposition 1, water resources development, which will be put to a vote in the general election on Tuesday.

A request for permission to place a sign at 9th and Euclid and use of a loud speaker for a car caravan by the Upland High Student Council was also granted.

The promotion of Officer Howard Seay to police investigator was approved on a one year probationary basis and the placing of Officer Richard C. Mesa on permanent status was also approved. The hiring of John Harry Lombardo to the position of customer serviceman with the water department was approved for a probationary period of one year.

Zone Problem

Action on a workable solution, within the zoning ordinances, on a 20 acre site in the northwest area of the city proposed for development by Mike Kelber was tabled until the next regular session of the Council.

Kelber had submitted plans for the tentative development of the tract to the Planning Commission but his petition was denied on the grounds that development plans did not comply with an adopted Master Plan for streets and highways under the community design plan.

Kelber told the Council that it was his desire to comply with the zoning plan but that he couldn't find a workable solution without sacrificing nearly 25 percent of the land to the street pattern.

A public hearing will be set in the near future on an ordinance designed to set forth the duties of the Administration Committee and the city engineer regarding the processing and requirement of a site plan review in certain zones.

City Manager Elwin Alder said the ordinance was designed to streamline this operation and to avoid delay in approving sites.

Under an existing ordinance persons wanting a site plan review must wait until the Planning Commission is in regular session for review and approval.

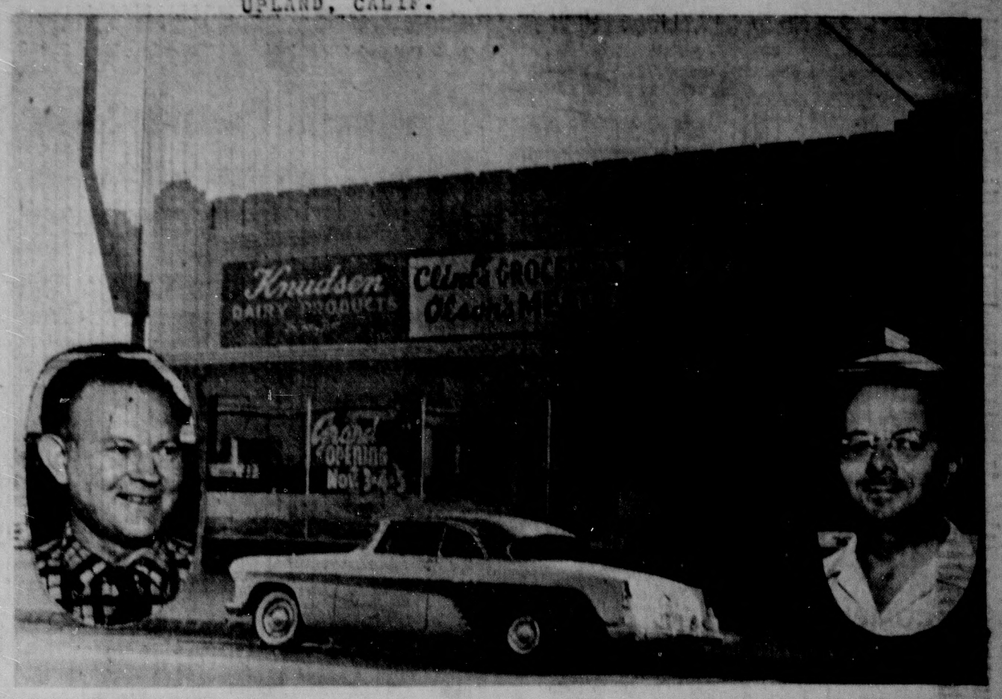

Ex-Upland Councilman On Forum

Richard A. Ibanez, prominent Los Angeles attorney, will participate in a forum on "Cuba and the Prospects of Freedom" sponsored by the Ontario and Upland Community Forum to be held at the City Council Chambers, 225 So. Euclid Ave., Ontario, on November 16, at 7:30 P.M.

Ibanez is no stranger to Upland. As a young lawyer he started to practice law in Upland where he served as a member of the City Council. His three children were born here. The oldest, Richard, is a junior at the University of California, and the two younger ones are students at Hollywood High School.

Ibanez' hobby is Latin American history, and Cuba has been of special interest to him for many years. Last summer Ibanez spent several weeks in Cuba to learn the changes brought about by the revolution.

Since his return from Cuba he has participated in many forums and has spoken on the subject of Cuba, Castro and the Revolution.

OLSON'S AND CLINT'S market recently moved into this building at 60 E. 9th street and will observe grand opening festivities this weekend. Clint Mayberry, inset left, and Ernie Olson, inset right, have been in the grocery and meat business in Upland since 1927 and have been associated since 1937. The move into the new building provided the two men with additional floor space on which to enlarge and carry a more complete stock of all grocery and meat items.

CANDIDATES RUSH TO CORRAL VOTES

The political campaign wheel will continue to spin feverishly through next Monday as candidates make last-minute efforts to win voters into their camps.

On Tuesday of next week, however, the political arena will suddenly change and attention will reverse from candidates to voters.

Next Tuesday, November 8, some 60 million or more voters will go to the polls to elect a new president, congressman, senators, assemblymen, etc. Approximately 20 percent of voters are classed as Independent voters and it will probably be this percentage that contributes heavily to which candidates will be elected.

These voters will be the target for intensified campaigning during the closing days of the run for offices.

Local Issues

Voters in the Upland area will center their attention on the candidates for congress from the 27th Congressional District and for Assemblyman from the 72nd Assembly District as well as electing a candidate to the Chino Basin Municipal Water District.

These same voters, of course, will have more than a passing interest in the Richard Nixon-John Kennedy presidential race.

Key races here have incumbent Harry Sheppard(D), against Robert Castle (R) for the Congressional seat from this district. Sheppard was first elected to Congress in 1936 and has served in public office continuously since that time. He is a ranking member of the governmental agencies sub-committee on appropriations and is chairman and dean of the California Congressional Committee.

Incumbent Eugene Nisbet (D), a resident of Upland, is opposing Norman Courtney (R), a Fontana attorney, for the 72nd Assembly District seat.

COURTNEY

NISBET

Nisbet was first elected to the Assembly in 1954 and served 12 years as mayor of Upland and 16 years on the City Council. He is a member of the Assembly Committee on Municipal and County government and a member of the Rules committee.

A Lawyer

Courtney has been practicing law in Fontana since 1949 and is a past Lt. Governor of Kiwanis; director of Coordinating Council, Chamber of Commerce; director for recreation center for the blind and American Red Cross.

Phil Holden, a native of Upland, and Bob Walline are seeking the Chino Basin Water District seat.

Holden is a member of the City Council and has been engaged in water company operation and management for 10 years.

Walline attended local schools and has been general manager of five water companies in this area. He has 12 years' experience in water production, use and distribution.

Olson's and Clint's Continue to Grow

As the Upland community grows so grows Olson's and Clint's.

Keeping in step with progress and the expansion of Upland, Clint's groceries and Olson's meats are now located at 60 E. 9th St.

The grand opening festivities for the two long-time Upland businessmen will be held this weekend in their new store which provides at least 500 square feet more of floor space and a more complete stock in all departments.

The association of the two men started in 1937 when Ernie Olson moved his meat market in with Clinton Mayberry's grocery store.

Started in 1927

Olson has been in the meat business here since 1927 and specializes in meats cut to order for customers with no pre-packaging.

Mayberry has been in the grocery business here since 1927 also.

Associated with them in the store are Clifton Murphy, James Fuller, Bob Davis, Bob Burns, Fred Kirkpatrick and Dick Lambeth and Olson's son, Roger.

Their formula for success goes like this: "We're home folk just like you. We support local institutions and enterprises. We want to see this community grow and prosper. We have no outside connections, no distant treasury. Money our customers spend with us stays close to home so that it can eventually come back to their pocketbooks."

Broad License Fee Plan Is Announced

Committee Gives Plan To Council

A sweeping license fee ordinance Tuesday night was presented to the Upland City Council by Councilman Jarvis Leman who recently was appointed to investigate the controversial subject. It passed a first reading.

The proposed ordinance states that every person who engages in any retail, wholesale, manufacturing, processing, professional, semi-professional or similar business, whether or not at a fixed place of business within the City of Upland, and who is not otherwise classified, shall pay an annual license fee based on annual gross receipts.

The proposal provides that no fee shall be less than $10 nor more than $100, unless otherwise provided for.

Leman's committee which drafted the proposed ordinance consisted of Jack Atwood, president of Upland Merchants Association; William Rugg Jr., vice president of the Upland Chamber of Commerce, and Robert Thrall, an Upland accountant.

Objections

At the time the committee was named, Paul Hottel, a local furniture store owner, expressed disapproval of any plan which would levy fees without regard for the profit margins of the business taxed.

Hottel who is also president of the Chamber of Commerce, said most Upland merchants opposed any form of business tax levied merely as a revenue-raising measure.

The proposed ordinance provides that if there is no fixed place of business for the business activity provided for in the first part (mentioned above) the license fee shall be computed on the basis of the annual gross receipts of the selling, service, or other business activity conducted and carried on within the city.

The minimum fee in this classification would be $10.

The proposed schedule by the committee for miscellaneous business is as follows:

Any person who engages in any of the following businesses or callings within the City of Upland shall be termed as being in Classification B and shall pay a license fee as follows:

Advertising - Distributing. (No fixed place of business) $50 per day.

2. Advertising Solicitors. (No fixed place of business) $75 per year.

3. Ambulances. Each ambulance $25 per year. Each driver $2 per year. Each operator $5 per year. (Total fee not to exceed $100)

4. Charity Solicitation. (For each solicitation) $5 each.

5. Circus Carnival, etc $500 per day.

6. Citrus Grove Caretaker. (Groves exceeding 10 acres other than own property) $25 per year.

7. Closing Out Sale (For a period of 30 days) $50.

8. Gasoline Tank Yard $35 per year. Plus for each truck $2 per year ($100 Max.)

9. Hospitals. If exempt from payment of Federal and State, Income Taxes. No fee.

Industry Lure Pointers Are C of C Goal

Upland Chamber of Commerce directors voted Tuesday morning to invite Jack Mullen, president of the Newport Beach Realty Board, to its next meeting for information on how to attract new industry to this area.

Newport Beach has retained a regular staff in recent years for the purpose of luring the vast electronics industry to its doors.

The local Chamber wants to get a few pointers on this type of planning with an eye to bringing additional industry to the Upland area.

The Board Tuesday also suggested that a member of the Upland City Council, or a representative of the city, should be included on its industry committee to attain a close relationship between the city and Chamber in attracting industry.

Cucamonga Wants Freeway Altered

The Cucamonga Chamber of Commerce and the Archibald Avenue Improvement Committee, in a letter to the County Board of Supervisors, said state and county officials should reconsider plans to build a freeway through the west end.

Officials had proposed the freeway to replace Euclid Ave. as State Rd. 192.

The letter to the supervisors was signed by Carl Masingale, the Chamber's highway committee chairman. Attached to the letter was a copy of a joint resolution by the two Cucamonga groups.

"We urge the California State Division of Highways to study further the proposition of replacing Euclid Avenue with other than a limited access highway," the resolution stated.

Although it declared that Euclid Ave. was a "wonderful highway," the Cucamonga Chamber also assured the Board of Supervisors that "we want to make it clear that we have no opposition to the replacement of Euclid Ave.

"We do, however, object very strenuously to the replacement of Euclid with a freeway."

The Cucamonga Chamber explained that it was that organization's "understanding"—that Sen. Randolph Collier has repeatedly emphasized, 'freeway construction should not be undertaken for local traffic purposes.'

Any Doubt

"Is there any doubt that Euclid Ave. benefits 'local traffic conditions primarily?'" the Cucamonga group asked.

"This present effort to determine the location of a north-south freeway prior to a designation of the Devore Cutoff route is placing the cart before the horse. Devore should have priority over any other north-south route because it does answer all of the requirements for a freeway."

"Our position in this matter has been taken after a

Edison Offers Scholarships for 2nd Year

The second year of Southern California Edison Company's College Scholarship Program for high school seniors is getting under way this week, according to an announcement today by D. J. Hogg, Edison district manager.

Brochures describing the Edison scholarship plan have been distributed to high schools throughout the 10-county area served by the company in Central and Southern California, Hogg said.

Edison is offering 10 four-year scholarships for the academic year 1961-62. Winning students will receive $500 annually toward tuition and expenses, and the colleges or universities they select will be presented direct grants from Edison of $750 annually, he explained.

Wants to Help

The Edison Company wishes to help promising students with their educational goals and, at the same time, hopes to ease some of the financial pressures besetting private colleges," Hogg said.

Students interested in competing for Edison scholarships may learn full details about the program by obtaining brochures at their high schools.

Meanwhile, winners of the five scholarships with which Edison launched its program last year are now beginning their freshman years at various colleges. They are Steven Howard Arnold of Long Beach and Ronald Lamar Smith of Palmdale, both attending Occidental College; Edward G. Wilson of San Bernardino, enrolled at Pomona College; Alan Loyal Rutherford of Porterville, Whittier College; and Thomas James Quinlan of San Gabriel, Harvey Mudd College.

Church Plans Rites For Community Day

The 1960 World Community Day Observance will be held on Nov. 4 at the Bethel Congregational Church of Ontario at 9:30 a.m.

All church women are welcome to attend this service on "Christian Action for Freedom." The service will begin with a Fellowship and coffee hour followed by speakers. These are Sam Maloof, Alta Loma, and Judith Casenave who was a foreign exchange student last summer, in Portugal.

The women will dedicate themselves and their gifts in a special service. In response to overwhelming requests, children's clothing and piece goods for refugee families are being collected. Also home medical kits will be distributed to women of Ethiopia, Nigeria, Chile, and Burma. The offering will be given in order to train women of these countries in nutrition and health.

This work is sponsored by the United Church Women of this area. All national aid and offerings will be administered by Church World Service, the relief agency of the national Council of Churches. All bundles will be accepted at the church to be taken to Modesto on the first leg of their journey.

Kennedy Endorsement Draws Fire of Chaffey Teacher

"We object most emphatically to this action," Jack White said his week in referring to an endorsement of Kennedy for president by the California Teachers Association Journal.

White, president of the Chaffey College chapter of the teachers group, spoke out against an editorial written by A. F. Corey, executive secretary of the CTA which recommended that teachers vote for Kennedy. White pointed out that a teacher's organization should not indulge in partisan politics, although his position is not affected by an individual's right to full citizenship which natually includes some political activity.

White Explains

White then went on to explain that he believed that there was no widespread agreement among schoolmen as to which party offered the best educational plank in its platform. Anyway, he noted, many educators think that local control of schools is best.

Making clear that he too spoke for himself, White observed that the editorial comment of the Journal might have better been placed in a paid political advertisement inasmuch as it didn't necessarily reflect the opinions held by all members of the CTA, and certainly not those of White himself.

Absolute freedom of the press to discuss public questions is a foundation stone of American liberty. — Herbert Hoover.

Grand Jury Reports

Following is a progress report of the 1960 San Bernardino Grand Jury which was impanelled on Feb. 24, at which time Judge Archie Mitchell appointed Mrs. Mildred Beloud foreman.

The first order of business was the nomination and election of members to fill the additional required offices, namely: foreman pro tem, Harley C. Amstutz; secretary, Roy Swedeen; assistant secretary, Mrs. Nora Parker Coy and sergeant at arms, George E. Webster. Information was submitted as to the vocation and experience of the respective members to enable the foreman to consider the training and experience of the individual members in making appointments to the various investigating committees, although where possible the preferences of the members as to their committee assignments were followed.

In order to bring some continuation from one year to another, the 1960 Grand Jury had two informal luncheon meetings with the 1959 Grand Jury at the beginning of its term. This was very beneficial to every member and gave us a good insight of the problems ahead.

While no attempt by any means is being made here to indicate the number and extent of the visits and inspections made, the following partial list will afford some indication of the time and effort expended during the months that the Grand Jury has been in office:

On May 6, in conjunction with other County Grand Juries of California, a resolution calling for more stringent regulations of the Aid to Needy Children Program by the Federal and State Government was approved and copies were sent to the State Legislature. This was followed by Sen. Stanford Shaw giving a detailed account of the action the last session of the Legislature had taken regarding this problem.

Visit Chino

June the full panel visitinuity of Grand Jury aced the California Institution for Men at Chino and will make a similar tour of the California Institution for Women this month. A full day tour of the County Hospital facilities was made in July.

The Grand Jury made an inspection of the north half of the second floor of the Courthouse building to focus attention on the inactivity of the remodeling program. At the urgent request of the Grand Jury, the Board of Supervisors took action to activate the program and work was begun immediately. The Grand Jury insisted that this valuable space should be utilized at the earliest possible date. Regular periodic inspections of the work progress are being made by the Grand Jury.

All committees have made visitations to every department of the County Government and reported to the Grand Jury. Special tours were arranged for the Foreman, Mrs. Mildred Beloud, and respective committees to visit and inspect the County Jail Juvenile Hall, Verdemont Ranch for Boys, Las Amigas Home for Girls, and Glen Helen Ranch. All County buildings and facilities in Fontana, the West-end, and Victorville were visited. While at Victorville an extensive tour of the Southwest Portland Cement Plant, under the guidance of the Air Pollution Control Committee, was made.

The Grand Jury has considered several criminal matters, and it has returned approximately twenty indictments to the court. Sixteen indictments were returned for narcotic offenses. Also, Murder, Robbery, Burglary, Lewd and Lascivious Conduct with a Child and Escape from County Industrial Road Camp indictments were filed with the court.

'Hypnosis in Childbirth' Is Topic of First Seminar

"Hypnosis in Childbirth" was the topic of the first seminar of the 1960-1961 series at San Antonio Community Hospital. The program was presented recently by Dr. Armand J. Pereyra, M. D., before a standing room only audience of 166 employees, guests, and student nurses. Dr. Pereyra is a member of the hospital's medical staff. President of the Riverside-San Bernardino Obstetrics and Gynecology ficer in charge of the hospital at the California Institution for Women. He is a member o' the Society for Clinical and Experimental Hypnosis.

Dr. Pereyra opened his talk by describing the long struggle hypnosis has encountered in gaining and holding recognition as a useful tool in medicine. He emphasized that it is not known what hypnosis really is. It is not a true form of sleep, for in this induced state of trance the mind is very alert.

Especially Effective

Hypnosis has proved especially effective in eliminating fear on the part of the expectant mother. Dr. Pereyra stated that fear and nervous tension are main problems in childbirth. During labor and childbirth, hypnosis is used as an effective anesthetic. He emphasized that hypnotic suggestion in pre-natal care can be used as a method of eliminating nausea, preventing miscarriages, and controlling weight and emotional difficulties.

Dr. Pereyra hypnotized three of his maternity patients to illustrate his techniques in hypnosis. An interesting illustration by two of his patients was that of identifying, under hypnosis, the sex of their unborn children. Of all his patients, only one mother has proven to be wrong.

A second seminar was held on Tuesday evening. Dr. Harold H. Royaltey, M. D., and Miss Joan Storkan, chief pharmacist, discussed topics "The Use of Drugs in Medicine" and "The Pharmacy and the Law."

UHS Crushes Corona 26-0

In its league opener, the Upland High School football team defeated the Corona Panthers 26-0 on Highland Field last Friday night.

The game was sparked by fine passes and good offensive and defensive play on the part of the Highlanders.

A pass good for 38 yards from Jim Wilcox to Lou Schmutz, then a run by Jim Lail who fumbled and recovered his own fumble, set up Upland's first touchdown. Ted Stipe carried the pigskin over the end line for six points in the first quarter.

In the second quarter, a pass from Wilcox to David Hansen and a run by Sophomore Monte Parrott to the five yard line, set up Stipe's second TD.

For the Highlanders' third touchdown of the first half, Schmutz caught a pass thrown by Joe Valadez. This time the Highlanders gained their extra point with a PAT pass from Wilcox to Bob Whitlock.

Standouts

Outstanding players on the Panther team were Sayers, Houser, Falconer, and Erickson. The Corona team got six first downs in the game, while the opposition walked away with 16. The two Panther attempts for a touchdown were barred by an unsuccessful fourth down attempt and a pass intercepted by Lail on the 30 yard line.

Upland's final TD of the evening was set up by a pass from Wilcox to Lail to the five yard line, from where Parrott scored. Joel Kay booted the PAT.

Kicking off for the Highlanders throughout the evening were Kay and Jim Thornton.

Singled out by Coach Lovit for their excellent play were Rudi Ybarra, Mike Coolie, Mike Christensen, Schmutz, Wilcox, Hansen, Whitlock, Lail, Stipe, and Parrott.

Tomorrow the Highland 11 will host Chino on Highland Field.

Theft Prevented

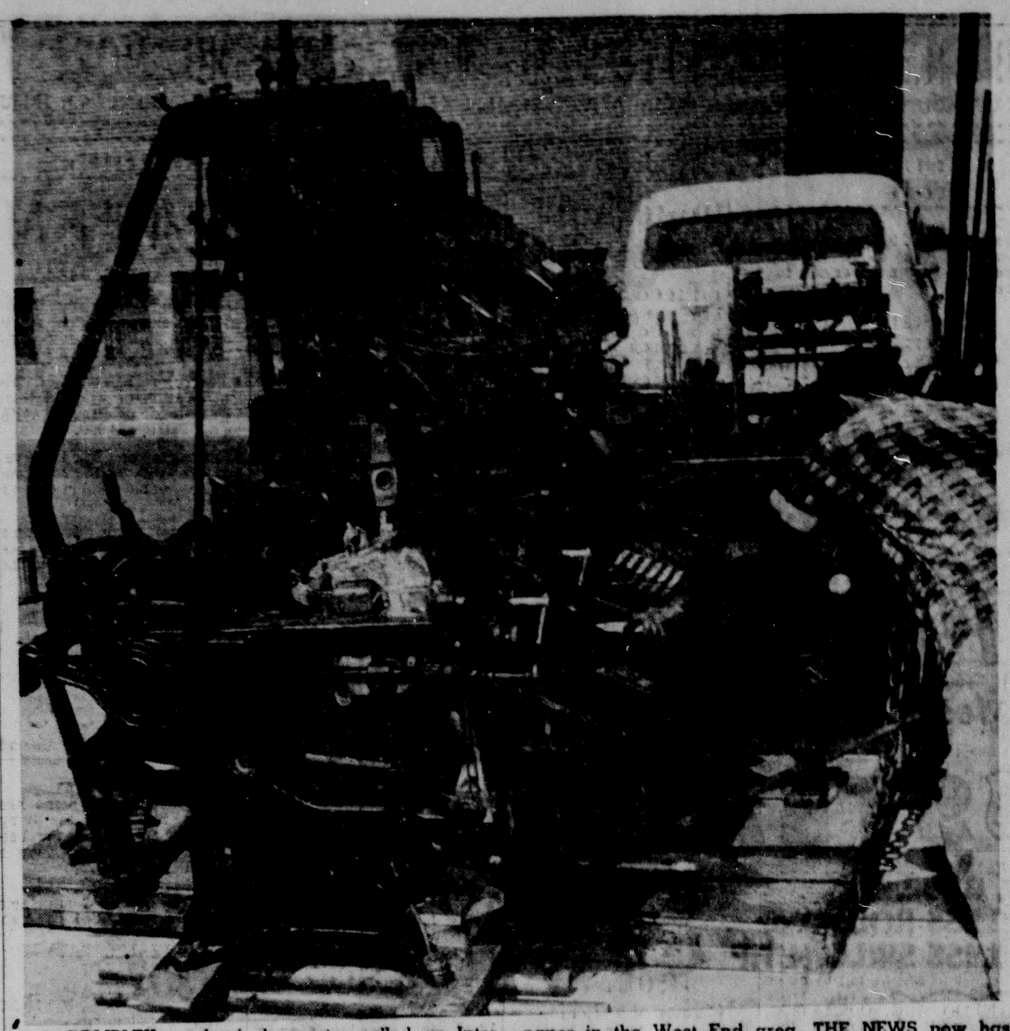

Because he decided to return home early, Fred W. French, 1385 Alta Ave., probably prevented his home from being burglarized.

French saw a light go out in his house as he drove into the driveway, and also thought he heard an intruder. But nothing was missing as the thief apparently escaped through another exit.

Police Probe Bullet Incident

Upland Police are investigating the shooting of a bullet through a window at the San Antonio Community hospital.

Mrs. Doris Dillon of the hospital staff reported the incident. Officers noting that the bullet had pierced a window about 8 feet from the ground level believed that it may have been fired by a careless hunter in the vicinity of 13th Ave. and Foothill Blvd.

Upland Gridders Face Bonita Next

Before a near capacity crowd, the Highlander football squad, as yet unscored upon in Tri County league play, shut out the Chino Cowboys in a 13-0 victory on Highland Field.

Tomorrow evening the UHS squad will travel to the Mt. SAC field to tangle with the Squad from Bonita.

Sparked by the passing of junior Jim Wilcox, he completed two touchdown passes, the local team repelled all offensive attempts by the Cowboys during the game. Dave Hansen caught the first TD pass in the end zone. Senior Lou Schmutz, surrounded by Chino defenders in the end zone, caught the second Wilcox pass.

To make the PAT point after the first touchdown Wilcox darted into the end zone. Setting up touchdown plays were the passing duets of Wilcox-Hansen, Wilcox-Schmutz, Wilcox -Bob Whitlock, and Wilcox -Barbee. Rudi Ybarra recovered a Cowboy fumble for the UHS 11, while a Chino pass was intercepted by Schmutz, both of which helped spur the Highlanders on to victory.

Player of Week

Mike Christensen, Senior Guard, was lauded by Coach Harley Lovit for his excellent play in this game. Christensen, a team co-captain along with Schmutz, played during all four quarters of the game. In reward for his efforts, Christensen received the "Player of the Week" award.

Lovit also commended Wilcox, Schmutz, Dave Bangle, Joe Bare, Dennis Barbee, Whitlock, Bernie Angel, Jim Lail, Lui Horsmeyer, and Hansen, and Monte Parrott.

The Highlander Bees absorbed their sixth loss of the season, dropping a 32-0 decision to Chino.

Supervisors Deny Request for Corral Construction

There will be no horse corral on Paloma Curve, Upland, unless the County Board of Supervisors change their minds following rejection of an appeal from Elwin W. Peterson, 2348 Paloma Curve, who had requested a zone variance to permit the corral.

In effect the Supervisors upheld the objections of Joseph A. Dexter who protested Peterson's request to construct the corral within 30 feet of Dexter's front property line.

The County Planning Commission originally had recommended approval of Peterson's request for a zoning variance that would have permitted him to extend the corral to the 30-foot mark. Dexter's objection to this variance was sustained by the supervisors and the Planning Commission's recommendation overruled.

In a detailed statement addressed to the Board of Supervisors, Peterson set forth the reasons he thought the Board of Supervisors should reconsider the matter. Among these was Peterson's statement that "there was no official notice sent to us regarding this appeal by Dexter and we were only present because a neighbor informed us the day of the hearing."

"He was here just the same," observed Supervisor Magda Lawson of Needles. He had every opportunity to speak."

"I don't know what more we can do," agreed Supervisor Nancy E. Smith of San Bernardino.

Board Clerk Rudy Corona told the supervisors that all legally required notices of the hearing had been published and posted.

After discussion the supervisors agreed that there was no sound basis for reconsidering the board's previous action in Dexter's favor, and voted specifically to confirm their previous action in overruling the County Planning Commission.

The four runners-up will also receive several valuable prizes.

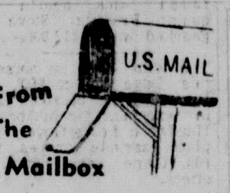

The contest is being conducted in this area by the bowling proprietors of Southern California and voting will be on a basis of one vote for each game of open bowling.

Your part in telling our story has not only helped us materially, but also has given us added enthusiasm in our aim of helping all retarded everywhere. Many other members of the community have benefited indirectly, we have no doubt.

All of the Staff of your paper have been very kind, courteous, and understanding in all our contacts.

Mrs. Theodore Swartz,
Public Relations Chairman

Dear Sir:

After reading the questions and answers relative to the problems that will face our new members on the Board of Directors of the Chino Basin Water District, I have arrived at the opinion that Mr. Holden's answers were specific, while it seemed to me that Mr. Walline dealt only in generalities.

This creates a question in my mind, does Mr. Walline have any definite policies, or is he afraid to commit himself at this time?

The individual voter may not agree with Mr. Holden's views but at least he will know what these views are and can realize that he is well informed on the current facts and problems and is not afraid to take a stand.

Sincerely,
Robert Sherwood

Probation Plea Set November 23

A probation hearing was set November 23 for Josephine Henry, 34, of 1148 Myrtle Drive, who pleaded guilty last week in an Ontario municipal court to petty theft charges.

In filing a complaint, James H. Crum, manager of Torley's Market on E. Holt Blvd., said he observed the woman appropriate merchandise worth $6.44 which she concealed in bags being carried by her two small daughters. Mrs. Henry paid $2.88 for other articles as she left the store.

lot of careful thought and consideration," the Cucamonga Chamber concluded. We recognize that traffic problems must be taken care of, and we recognize the need for better highways, but in this instance it is our firm opinion that any recommendation for a freeway is a mistake, and further that existing roads widened into divided highways or expressways represent a better answer to the problem of replacing Euclid Ave."

"There's nothing we have to do — they're just informing us that is what they've done," Board Chairman S. Wesley Break remarked. "There's no board action required. It is just for information."

Robert Bradford reiterated a decision would be made for the most suitable route at the next meeting.

Upland Woman Appears On 'Queen for A Day'

Mrs. Kay Mendoza, 845 N. 5th Ave., Upland, was one of the candidates appearing on the nationally televised ABC show Queen for a Day broadcast October 28.

Candidates are selected from the audience of the Moulin Rouge studio restaurant in Hollywood to be interviewed by M. C. Jack Bailey during the program. The Queen, Miss Paula Harris, Northridge, was elected by audience applause. Each of the ladies appearing on the show received a drink master, a 10-piece vanity set, a portable air purifier and an iron.

Bigger Car

During her interview, Mrs. Mendoza told the audience that her wish was for "a car big enough for everyone to ride". She explained that in addition to her own three children and her husband, her "family" includes four ladies from the State Hospital. Mrs. Mendoza runs a "family care home" for patients at the Pacific State Hospital, and each of the ladies, ranging from 37 to 68 years of age, call her "Mom", the candidate explained.

To avoid conflict in her "family", Mrs. Mendoza said, the entire group goes on every outing and the present car is just not big enough. She also told Bailey that she would like "just one day's rest," and added that with the large "family" she frequently is cleaning or washing in the early morning hours.

Disbudding any plant is one way to insure that the remaining buds will produce bigger blooms. Where quantity is desired, don't disbud. When you seek quality, do. Camellias are candidates for the latter treatment since they are notorious for setting too many buds. Never leave two buds together; thin them to about four inches apart. And why wait? Disbudding now keeps the plant from channeling any more energy into buds that will be going anyway.

Study of Salaries Rapped

A sharp criticism of spiraling teacher's salaries was lodged during the monthly meeting of the Board of Trustees of Chaffey College.

Richard S. Barr struck out at the annual comparative salary charts which are presented to the Trustees observing that the practice is sim- against another in trying to force up teacher's salaries.

Barr pointed out that these studies have but one object in mind and that was always the boosting of salaries. He also charged that most salaries are set by schoolmen.

Barr said that teacher's salaries should be determined by what the district can afford, not how much it can raise the pay scale.

"Why doesn't the board decide the salaries well in advance of determining what the district's tax receipts will be?" Barr asked.

"The teaching profession isn't hurting," the steel company executive said. "In fact, teachers' salaries are becoming so attractive that many are switching from business and industry to teaching.

Barr said that he believed that the minimum salary, $4,910, might well be increased but also said that the maximum of $9,400 should remain untouched.

Salary Defended

Dr. Daniel B. Milliken, college president, defended the Chaffey salary schedules. He also predicted that should the board set next year's salaries on the basis of comparison with area industrial and business concerns it "would have to cut them" after finding out how much money was available.

The comparison suggestion was made by Arvel J. Smith, board chairman, who said salaries paid professional and business people should be studied.

Smith explained he meant salaries of engineers, industrial engineers, chemists, accountants, personnel directors and other professional positions requiring similar education and experience should be compared with teachers.

Other Idea

Another trustee, Mrs. Robert I. Mellon, suggested faculty salary surveys be made every two or three years instead of annually which has been the custom.

Dr. Milliken, seeking to end the discussion, at one stage told Barr "we have no data to prove or disprove your bias" but offered to present information later.

Barr stated he wasn't in favor of further increases but stressed he didn't want to see salaries reduced.

The matter came up when Louis Groneweg, a faculty member, presented the tentative agenda for the certificated salary committee's study.

Groneweg promised to have a report in the hands of the board for the Jan. 17 meeting.
